The Netza Project is one of Zihuatanejo's most respected international partnership charities dedicated to advancing literacy and ending poverty. The Netza Project works to assure that all children—regardless of economics or language spoken—have access to quality education in public schools and programs that honor and celebrate diversity, equality, and local culture. Volunteers from The Netza Project and its affiliates, including Rotary International, will be on hand the evening of the event, along with some of the native Aztec children and educators they partner with.
